Broadlands Community Blog Debuts on LoudounTimes.com

The Loudoun Times Mirror has launched a brand new, online edition at www.LoudounTimes.com. As part of the new format, there is a section highlighting news from communities around Loudoun County. Maureen Burns, Broadlands Association Assistant General Manager, has been invited to be the "Citizen Journalist" for the Broadlands!

This will be the ideal place to get news, announcements, events, photos, fundraisers and much more publicized in a high traffic media forum.

Please send all your news and photos to mamatothree@aol.com and as space permits they will be published on the new Loudoun Times.com Broadlands blog.

PIRANHAS Swim Team Registration Begins

Come out and join the Broadlands Piranhas for another fun-filled summer of swimming! The swim team is open to Broadlands residents ages 5 to 18. Our goal is to develop a love of swimming while teaching proper technique, principles, and good sportsmanship as well as team and neighborhood spirit. We offer excellent coaching, daily practices, and fun family activities during the season. The Piranhas compete in two summer swim leagues, the ODSL (Old Dominion Swim League) and CSL (Colonial Swim League). The Piranhas swim teams fill up quickly, so please sign up early.

Registration is open to Broadlands residents. Starting April 16th, non-resident families who have purchased a pool membership will be able to register, provided there is space available. For complete details on registration or questions, please visit our website at www.broadlandsswimteam.org. GO PIRANHAS!

BROADLANDS LIVE! NEEDS YOU!

Our wildly popular summer concert series BROADLANDS LIVE! is in need of a few good men & women!

This awesome committee has a great time planning the exciting concerts that happen 4 times this summer, and YOU are just the perfect person to join in on the fun!

Contact Angela Rabena at arabena@comcast.net ASAP to find out how you can help.

Teens and young adults are also encouraged to apply. If you have a friend or neighbor who might be interested, please pass this invitation along to them.

We'd also love to hear your suggestions for artists and themes. Planning for the 2010 season starts soon, so hurry and join.

Notes from Your Neighbors..... Ashburn Volunteer Fire Rescue Department

Poison Prevention Week is March 14th through March 20th. Many everyday items used both inside and outside your home contain poisons that make people sick or even kill them! Poisons can be ingested, breathed in, touched or splashed into your eyes. Identify the poisons that are around your home and keep them locked away from children and pets. Always carefully follow directions when using hazardous substances. Don't forget a deadly odorless, tasteless and invisible poison – carbon monoxide! Be sure to have a CO detector installed on every level of your home.

We won the Liberty Mutual Safety Pledge! On February 1, 2010 Liberty Mutual Insurance presented AVFRD with a check for $10,000. Thanks to all our supporters who helped us win this prize.

Another way AVFRD raises funds is through our Pancake Breakfast held at the Ashburn firehouse – 20688 Ashburn Road – on the first Sunday of the month from 8:00a.m. until Noon. Please note there will not be a Pancake Breakfast in April. During the breakfast be sure to visit the Kids' Corner for a new surprise, a special guest, a craft project and much more! Tours of the fire engines and ambulances are also available. New to the Pancake Breakfast is the Diesel Fuel Fundraiser. It takes 312 gallons of fuel to fill up three fire trucks and three ambulances. "Buy" a gallon or more of diesel and if you fill up one of the tanks, you get to ring the fire bell!

Come One, Come All to Carnival Fun at Hillside's Spring Fling on Saturday, March 6th.

Saturday, March 6th is right around the corner! Come on over and enjoy a great day of games, prizes, concessions, and live entertainment from 10:00a.m. to 3:00p.m. at Hillside Elementary.

Hillside will host the Dome Theater featuring shows like the Titanic, Dinosaurs and Space Exploration. This mobile planetarium offers the latest audio and visual learning technologies and is like a mini IMAX theater. (www.dometheater.net) Tickets are $5.00

Becky Shore of Wildlife Ambassadors will also be at the Spring Fling Festival. She will bring an array of animals with her including foxes, a chinchilla, some birds and a baby porcupine. Becky is a fantastic hands-on animal expert and both children and adults will learn about each of the animals while interacting with them. See www.wildlifeambassadors.org for more information.

This year's games include some new and original twists on favorite carnival games. This Spring Fling is so big that Hillside only puts it on biennially. Don't miss this fantastic family event. If you have any questions about the event, please contact Julie Holstein at Yahoos34me@aol.com.

Broadlands Residents, Direct Debit is Now Available to You For Your Monthly HOA Dues

Owners are encouraged to use the Direct Debit Program and have their monthly assessment deducted from their bank account automatically during the first week of the month. This program eliminates the possibility of late charges being assessed as payments will not be missed or lost in the mail. A copy of the application follows the budget in this newsletter. You may also pick up a copy at the HOA office at the Nature Center at 21907 Claiborne Parkway, or online at http://www.broadlandshoa.org/files/108/auto_pay_application.pdf.

You can find the Automated Payment Service Authorization form on page 12.

The Library Corner

A message from the Loudoun County Library Board of Trustees

There is no question about it. Loudoun County Public Libraries are in trouble. The Board of Supervisors is considering a budget for FY 2011 which will force elimination of 25 positions, closure on Sundays plus one other day, elimination of programs such as the Teen Center in Rust and Outreach to the elderly and shut-ins, and severe cut backs in the programs and services the library provides to you.

Libraries account for less than one percent of the total County budget. The services the libraries provide are superb and win national recognition. The personnel are highly trained and highly motivated. The impact of the cuts to the library will be devastating, and the savings miniscule. Please let your Supervisors know that you support fully funding our libraries and object to the cuts which are on the table. Final decisions will be made by the end of March. NOW is the time to act. Write to the Supervisors at BOS@Loudoun.gov and voice your support for fully funding your libraries. Bring your gently used prom dresses and accessories to your local library throughout March. Your donations will go to Prom Wishes, an annual event organized by the Junior Woman's Club of Loudoun, who are committed to outfitting teens for the prom, free of charge! Loudoun County Public Library is proud to partner with JWCL in support of this program.

General Manager Comments

I hope everyone survived the recent snow storms. Our snow plowing contractor expressed how cooperative the majority of residents were during these extraordinary storms. It was a very trying time for everyone. We commend you for moving your vehicles to allow the company to clear the streets as quickly as possible.

The plowing company and all its employees were very appreciative of the pizzas, cookies, brownies and other treats that were delivered to them. Many of them spent up to a week on site during the two storms. They asked me to express their appreciation to all of the homeowners who went out of their way for them.

Board Actions Update to January, 2010 Meeting

- Approved – Minutes of December 8, 2009 meeting.
- Approved – Piedmont Environmental Council's agreement with the Association.
- Approved – Easement with B. F. Saul, as amended for installation of traffic light at Demott Drive and Broadlands Boulevard with email from B. F. Saul agreeing to protect landscaping in the easement area.
- Denied – Request by Loudoun County to take over maintenance of the Nature Center Pond.
- Denied – Removal of assessed late charges.
- Approved – Policy for Use of the Common Areas by For-Profit Organizations, subject to attorney approval.
- Approved – Tennis contract, as amended.

Pools Open May 29th, Be Ready!

Be sure that you know where to find your family's Photo ID Pool Passes. You will need them to enter the pools for the 2010 season. They will be electronically updated; you don't need to do a thing!

Replacement passes can be obtained free of charge at the Nature Center up until opening day! After that, replacement passes will cost $5.00 each.

Look for complete pool information in the April issue of the Broadlands Community News or after April 1st, on the community website, www.broadlandshoa.org.

See you at the pool!

STAY SAFE -

Don't Skate on the Community Ponds!

Please remember skating is prohibited on all community ponds. Even walking on any ice covered pond can be very dangerous.

The surface of the pond may appear to be frozen, but our winters are normally not cold enough to guarantee that the ice is thick enough to support anyone's weight, even a child's.

Parents, please tell your children that it is extremely dangerous, even deadly, to walk or skate on the ponds in the community.

Let's keep our neighborhood safe.

Please Keep Your Sidewalks Clean

Both Virginia and Loudoun County Codes require that the occupant - whether an owner or a tenant - remove all snow and ice from any walkway adjoining any part of their property within 6 hours after the snowfall has ceased.

If the snow or ice fell during the night, it must be removed by noon the following day. Should the storm occur on Sunday, the accumulation must be removed by noon on Monday. Failure to comply with the Code can result in a fine of $250.00 imposed by the county.

Please be a good neighbor and a good citizen, clear your walkways and keep Broadlands a safe environment for all our residents. If you know someone who may be physically unable to keep their walkway clear, please consider giving them a helping hand.

AUTOMATED PAYMENT SERVICE AUTHORIZATION FORM

Armstrong Management Services, Inc. is pleased to offer you the option of using the electronic transfer of funds method to make your assessment payments. This allows automatic payment of your assessments from virtually any banking institution that you choose to be credited directly to the Association's account. This way you will not have to remember when to make a payment, you will not have to take the time to write and mail a check, you can save money on postage, and all your payments will be made in a timely fashion, thus avoiding any late charges to your account.

To initiate participation, please complete this Authorization Form, attach a voided check from your designated bank account, and mail them to the letterhead address. The assessment amount will be taken out of your account during the FIRST WEEK of each billing cycle.

You are responsible for all assessments on your account up until such time as you are notified in writing that your first assessment payment will be taken out of your account.

If you have any questions, please call the Accounting Department at 703-385-1133. Thank you.

I (we) hereby authorize Armstrong Management Services, Inc., hereinafter called "Company," to initiate debit entries to my (our) account indicated below and the financial institution named below, hereinafter called "Financial Institution," to debit the same to such account for association dues. I (we) acknowledge that the origination of ACH transactions to my (our) account must comply with the provisions of U.S. Law.

Broadlands Parking Rules Enforcement to Begin March 1, 2010

The Broadlands HOA has contracted with Battlefield Towing to enforce the HOA parking rules and regulations starting March 1st 2010. Please become familiar with the Broadlands parking rules and regulations below to avoid being towed.

Broadlands Parking Rules and Regulations

- No vehicle may be parked in a Fire Lane or in violation of any posted sign.
- Vehicles cannot be parked in a manner that obstructs vehicular or pedestrian traffic or on a sidewalk or any grassy or landscaped area. Cars parked in driveways but completely blocking the sidewalk are subject to towing.
- Commercial vehicles, school buses, church buses, recreational vehicles of any type – boats, campers, motor homes and/or any vehicle which could not normally be used for daily transportation - may not be parked or stored in open view of any residential property, residential streets or open space or other Common area.
- Junk or derelict vehicles may not be parked or stored in open view of any residential property, residential streets or open space or other Common area.
- Vehicles must conform to all State and County codes, ordinances and statutes with regard to stickers, registrations and certifications.
- Vehicles may not be parked with any type of "For Sale" sign displayed on the vehicle on any roadways or common area.
- Vehicles may not park within ten feet on either side of a mailbox.

Vehicles parked in violation of any of these regulations may be towed at the owner's sole risk and expense. If you have any questions regarding parking in the Broadlands please call the HOA office at 703-729-9704 Monday through Friday from 9 am to 5 pm. Should your vehicle be towed, you must contact Battlefield Towing directly at (703) 378-0059

Any vehicle parked in violation of state, local or HOA regulations is subject to towing. Offending vehicles parked on VDOT roads can be towed by order of the Loudoun County Sheriff's Department. Offending vehicles parked on HOA maintained roads and parking lots can be towed by order of the Broadlands Homeowners' Association. Private HOA maintained roads are listed below.

2009-2010 Snow Removal Guidelines

Within this section, you will find a list of streets indicating which entity is responsible for snow removal. Please reference this list to determine who to call with snow removal concerns. Broadlands Association provides snow removal for the private streets that have been completed by the builder and are owned by the Association. As the public streets in the single family home sections are accepted into the state road system, they will be maintained by the Virginia Dept. of Transportation (VDOT). Any new construction areas in Broadlands would contact their builder, Van Metre, unless their section/street is included in the HOA or VDOT areas to plow. Major roadways such as Claiborne Parkway, Demott Drive, Vestals Gap Drive, Ellzey Drive, Chickacoan Trail Drive, Glebe View Drive, Truro Parish Drive and Route 625 (Waxpool Road) are considered priority snow removal routes. After these roadways are cleared, work will begin on the secondary residential streets.

Snow plowing is to begin after there has been an accumulation of 2 inches of snow. Sand and/or chemicals will be used at critical intersections and as needed on streets.

In addition, there is a Loudoun County ordinance (Chapter 1022) that requires the owner/occupant of a property which has a public sidewalk adjoining or touching the property in front, rear or either side, to clear or treat that sidewalk for snow and ice within 6 hours of a snowfall (by 12:00 noon for overnight snowfall). Property owners abutting common areas (i.e. along Ellzey Drive) are also responsible for clearing those sidewalks. This will provide a safe walkway for children going to school. The County Department of Building and Development is responsible for enforcement of this ordinance.

Manicure, Pet-icure

By: Shannon M. Pecora, M.A.,
Stream Valley Veterinary Hospital

Dogs, cats, parrots, guinea pigs—so many different types of pets with at least one thing in common: they have nails that need regular trimming. A simple routine task, however, not for those of us with pets who are frightened, uncooperative, or just plain stubborn.

Pets may dislike nail trims for a number of reasons. They may remember the pain of a previous too-close trim. Arthritis might make it uncomfortable to have the legs or feet held up for too long. Perhaps they just haven't had enough training to get used to the practice.

If your pet is still young, often the simplest and most practical solution is to just keep at it. Even if you can only trim the nails on one foot at a time before the struggling begins, give it a go. With enough patience from both of you, your pet should begin to realize that it isn't really a traumatic experience, and you'll be able to get more and more done each time.

If you have an older pet who has never been fond of nail trims, or even if the aversion is a new occurrence, the above technique could still work. However, you may find that support and assistance are necessary. You can choose to bring your pet to the groomer or veterinary office on a regular basis and leave it to the professionals. But if that sounds tedious and expensive, the at-home option is probably a bit more appealing. Your groomer or veterinary technician/assistant may be able to guide you through the procedure, helping you practice as many times as you need to until you are comfortable trimming your pet's nails on your own. In some scenarios, sedation or special restraint is appropriate; a consult appointment with the veterinarian can help you make that judgment call.

It's too bad that our pets in general don't appreciate the pampering aspect of the mani-pedi. I certainly wish that someone would offer to do my nails for me every few weeks! But nail trims are necessary, so it's important to explore the options and find the best way to get you and your pet used to the practice.

There are three species of these colorful North American birds. Eastern and western bluebirds have a reddish brown breast, which contrasts with their predominately blue plumage. Their relative, the (male) mountain bluebird is entirely blue. Eastern bluebirds are primarily found east of the Rockies, and range from Canada to Mexico and Honduras. They are much admired for their lovely coloring and for a distinctive song that many hear as “chur-lee, chur-lee”. The eastern bluebird is the state bird of both New York and Missouri. Western bluebirds are found west of the Rocky Mountains from Canada to Mexico. The mountain bluebird also inhabits much of western North America - often at elevations above 7,000 feet (2,133 meters). Bluebirds eat small fruits and hunt insects, spiders, and other creatures from above. The birds perch, watch, and then swoop to the ground to pounce on their prey.

Pairs mate in spring and summer, when they construct small, bowl-shaped nests. Females lay four or five eggs and incubate them for about two weeks. Young remain in the nest, cared for by both parents, for an additional 15 to 20 days. Bluebirds often have two broods in a season. Sometimes, a young bluebird from the first brood will remain in the nest and assist its parents in caring for the second. Bluebirds living in higher latitudes may head south if food becomes scarce or temperatures too cold. Mountain bluebirds typically migrate to lower elevations during the same lean seasons.

Bluebirds are considered fairly common, but their numbers have declined substantially during the last century. Populations have been given a boost by the birdhouse boxes that have become popular in many parks and backyards.

Loudoun County Master Gardener Volunteers Announce First Annual Gardening Symposium

The Loudoun County Master Gardener Volunteers are pleased to announce their First Annual Gardening Symposium to be held March 20th and 21st at Ida Lee Park in Leesburg, VA. The theme for the two day event will be “Garden to Table” with topics ranging from planning to preserving.

Following on the success of their latest initiative, Garden to Table, LCMGV have lined up a two day event for the public to help anyone that wants to start a vegetable garden in 2010. Topics will range from designing your garden to preserving your harvest, with bugs, bees and tools discussion included. Among the guest speakers will be Joe Lamp’l, aka “Joe Gardener”, host of two National television shows: Garden SMART on PBS and DIY Network’s Fresh from the Garden. Joe is also a syndicated columnist and author, and will be speaking on his latest book, “The Green Gardener’s Guide; simple significant actions to protect and preserve the planet” with a book signing afterwards. Joe’s passion and work related to gardening and environmental stewardship through multiple media platforms has positioned him as one of the most recognized personalities in the green sector today. Learn more about Joe at <http://www.joegardener.com/>.

Also featured is Ellen Ogden, co-founder of The Cook’s Garden - America’s premiere source of information for the kitchen gardener. With a new book due out on kitchen gardening, Ellen will have a book signing after her talk. Ellen will also be available for consultation by appointment on Sunday, March 21st. Learn more about Ellen at <http://www.ellenogden.com/>.

Other speakers include Dr. Michael Raupp, noted Professor of Entomology at UMD, also known as “Dr Bug”. His website is www.raupplab.umd.edu/bugweek and Jaanine Glascock from Quail Hollow Farm in Berkeley Springs, WVA. Local speakers include Donna Williamson, former owner/editor of the regional gardening magazine, GRANDIFLORA, Beverly Samuels, Extension Agent, Family and Consumer Sciences, and Master Gardeners; Susan Lopez, Denise Palmer, Judith Stevens.

The first day will conclude with a Wine and Cheese tasting from local businesses. Tickets are $55 for the two day event and include lunch for both days. Lunch will be provided by South Street Under and Wegman’s, both of Leesburg. Space is limited.

Loudoun County Master Gardener Volunteers provide county residents with information on safe, effective, and sustainable landscape management practices. The program is sponsored through the local office of the Virginia Cooperative Extension in Leesburg, Virginia, with the support of Virginia Tech and Virginia State University. Master Gardener Volunteers are an organization trained in research-based horticultural information. The Critter Corner

By Dr. Steve Velling, Ashburn Village Animal Hospital

"These Bugs Really Bite!"

Mrs. Washington's little girl Emily came home from preschool one day complaining that her head itched terribly. When her mom looked at her a little more closely, she noticed little white specks attached to Emily's hair, near her scalp, and then she saw one of the "specks" move. That's when she called us. I told her that it could be lice, but I'd have to see one to confirm it. Her immediate reaction was to blame her dog Bowzer, at which point I informed her that head lice is not passed from animals. "Really?" she said. "I always thought they came from pets!"

There are many different parasites that people can contract, but many of them don't usually come from pets. Parasites that seem to be on the rise, according to Dr. Bernard Cohen of Johns Hopkins Children's Center, include lice, bedbugs, scabies, pinworms, and fungi such as ringworm. Of these, only scabies and ringworm can be from pets. The others are contagious from person-to-person contact, or more often child-to-child contact, especially during the winter months when kids and adults spend more time indoors and have prolonged contact with one another.

Scabies, which is a mite that burrows under the skin, is more often seen in dogs with weakened immune systems, but they can transfer to people with skin-to-hair contact (such as petting!). These bugs not only burrow, but they feed on you, lay eggs on you, and leave their waste on you (are you itchy yet?!). This causes an intense allergic reaction, but fortunately there are some very effective creams to use. As for ringworm, this disease is actually a misnomer. It is really a fungus, and grows on the surface of the skin like a microscopic plant. It forms scaly, red circles, or rings, on the skin. They can be present on wrestling or gym mats, on goggles or bathing caps, and is spread by skin-to-skin contact. But it is also often spread from pets, especially puppies or kittens. Their long hair can hide the lesions on their body, and as with scabies, people can pick up this disease just by touching their pet.

Well, Mrs. Washington thanked me for my time, as well as my advice to use "RID" shampoo and to go through Emily's hair literally with a "fine-toothed comb". I hope you have a parasite-free house, but if you or your pet do come into contact with one of these pests, don't be too surprised. They've been around forever, and they aren't going away anytime soon.

Till next time,

p.s. There are many intestinal parasites that are zoonotic, or contagious, from pets to people, including roundworms, hookworms and giardia. Wash your hands after picking up after your pet or playing in the dirt!

Loudoun Wildlife Conservancy (LWC) is accepting applications for its 2010 Summer Internship Program. The LWC internship program provides educational and hands-on opportunities for students concerning environmental issues impacting Loudoun County. College juniors, seniors, and graduate students pursuing a career in the environment are encouraged to apply. LWC is also extending applications to junior science teachers in Loudoun County who have up to five years teaching experience. The deadline for applications is March 15, 2010.

In previous years, interns have supported LWC's citizen science programs, including stream monitoring, amphibian monitoring and habitat restoration. They have helped to develop the organization's publications and assisted with nature camps for children. In 2010, the internship will include working on the bluebird and butterfly monitoring programs as well as the stream monitoring program. Interns also will be expected to support the environmental children's camp for two weeks during the summer.

The LWC Summer Internship Program provides students learning and training opportunities to:

- advance their knowledge and understanding of environmental issues
- gain exposure to the operations of a nonprofit organization
- develop research capabilities and technical, field and leadership skills
- apply knowledge learned in the classroom to real world environmental challenges
- be guided and mentored by environmental professionals
- benefit from the opportunity to network with LWC volunteers and the greater Loudoun community
- explore career possibilities in the nonprofit and environmental field

Requirements for consideration:

- The intern should be available for work at least 20 hours per week from approximately May 15 – August 25.
- The intern should be pursuing a degree in an environmental career to include, but not limited to, biology, policy issues, environmental management, horticulture, etc.
- The intern will need to be available to participate in a face-to-face interview with two LWC staff members for consideration.
- Applicants will need to submit a resume and cover letter detailing education, training, and skills they will bring to the LWC internship program, as well as how the program will enhance their education and relate to their chosen career.
- The intern will need to provide two references, preferably employment-related.
- A writing sample in the candidate's current research field or other environmental area of interest will need to be submitted.

Interns will receive compensation for the work performed. Applications may be submitted online at www.loudounwildlife.org or contact the LWC Summer Internship Coordinator, Karen Strick, at kstrick@loudounwildlife.org, for more information.

Loudoun Wildlife Conservancy is an all-volunteer non-profit organization whose mission is to promote the preservation and proliferation of healthy wildlife habitats throughout Loudoun County. Visit www.loudounwildlife.org or call 540-554-2542.

March Nature Programs

The Audubon Naturalist Society and the Broadlands HOA have partnered to provide the following programs.

Programs are held at the Nature Center and are $5 per child, unless otherwise indicated. Please register by calling 703-729-9704 at least one day before the program. A minimum number of 3 participants is required or the program will be cancelled. Please dress for the outdoors.

Feeding Time at the Nature Center

Date: Saturday, March 6th

Time: 11:00a.m. - 12:00p.m.

All ages. An adult must accompany children under 10.

Watch and participate as the naturalist cares for residents at the Nature Center. Learn more about our animals and get an up-close view.

Storytime For 2's and 3's

Date: Wednesday, March 10th

Time: 10:30a.m. - 11:00a.m.

Ages: 2 and 3 year olds with parent

Listen to a childrens book with a nature theme, followed by a craft or other hands-on activity.

Birds

Date: Friday, March 12th

Time: 1:30 - 2:30 pm.

Ages: 4-6 year olds with parent

Let's learn more about birds through kinesthetic activity, visiting with Marshmallow the Dove, and other activities.

Naturalist Weekday Hours:

Monday 12:00p.m. - 3:00p.m.

Wednesday: 10:00a.m. - 5:00p.m.

Friday: 10:00a.m. - 2:00p.m.

Nature Center Saturday Hours:

March 6th, 13th, 27th

10:00a.m. to 2:00p.m.

Audubon Naturalist at Broadlands

Summer Nature Camp

Kids Grow Better Outside!

Give your child the gift of the outdoors this summer. Our nature camps take place at the Broadlands Nature Center and are the best way to get kids outside and learning. Our camps feature eco-crafts, games and nature exploration. The Nature Center and all of its animals and activities will be our home as we explore the natural world around us.

To register online:

- Go to www.audubonnaturalist.org.
- Click on Register Online and follow the prompts

For questions about the registration process please call 301-652-9188 x16

We encourage people to use the online registration system; however, if you prefer, we will mail or email you a registration form, or you may pick one up at the Nature Center.

CAMPS FOR 4-5 YEAR OLDS

Cold-Blooded Critters: June 21st-25th 9:00a.m. - Noon

Scaly, slimy and surprising; cold-blooded critters are fascinating creatures with some wild adaptations. Non-poisonous snakes eat poisonous snakes, some frogs can freeze solid in the winter and a turtle's favorite food may surprise you! Join us as we meet the cold-blooded critters that live in Broadlands then look outside for some of their wild relatives.

Super Duper Science: June 28th-July 2nd 1:00p.m. - 4:00p.m.

Slime and bubbles to wheels and balls - we cover it all in this fun, hands-on science exploration. Hands-on science experiments will help us learn all about mixtures and movement in this camp perfect for budding scientists. We will then go outside to find similar science in the outdoors.

CAMPS FOR 6-7 YEAR OLDS

Wet N Wild: June 21st-25th 1:00p.m. - 4:00p.m.

Water is essential to life on this planet! Learn more about life in ponds, rivers, and watersheds in this cool camp. And of course, we will be playing some extreme water games.

Creature Feature: June 28th-July 2nd 9:00a.m. - Noon

Meet a live animal every day in this exciting camp! We will investigate the differences between wild animals and pets, including their different adaptations. Before we meet our live guest, we will practice safe handling and how to respect our new acquaintances. We'll finish every day seeing and touching the animal we have learned so much about!

Cost: Broadlands Residents: $120 Non-Residents: $150

Ham & Coleslaw Hero

A delicious variation on the traditional sub.

Ingredients:

½ cup plain low fat yogurt
2 Tbsp light mayonnaise
1 Tbsp wine vinegar
2 tsp honey-Dijon mustard
1/4 tsp freshly ground pepper
8 oz coleslaw mix (about 4 cups)
1 loaf Italian bread (about 1 lb)
6 oz thinly sliced reduced-sodium ham
1 jar (12 oz) roasted red peppers, well-drained and cut in strips
¾ cup thinly sliced red onion

Preparation:

Coleslaw: Whisk yogurt, mayonnaise, vinegar, mustard and pepper in a medium bowl. Add coleslaw mix and toss to coat well. Split Italian bread horizontally. Arrange ham on bottom half, then peppers and onion. Cover with coleslaw and bread top. Cut loaf in four portions to serve. womansday.com

Calzone Pinwheels

These can be made ahead and popped in the oven right before company arrives.

16 Servings

Ingredients:

½ cup ricotta cheese
1 tsp Italian seasoning
¼ tsp salt
½ cup shredded part-skim mozzarella cheese
½ cup diced pepperoni
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
½ cup chopped fresh mushrooms
½ cup finely chopped green pepper
2 Tbsp finely chopped onion
1 package (8 oz) refrigerated crescent rolls
1 jar (14 oz) pizza sauce, warmed

Preparation:

In a small bowl, combine the ricotta, Italian seasoning and salt. Stir in the mozzarella, pepperoni, Parmesan, mushrooms, green pepper and onion. Separate crescent dough into four rectangles; seal perforations. Spread cheese mixture over each rectangle to within 1/4 in. of edges. Roll up jelly-roll style, starting with a short side; pinch seams to seal. Cut each into four slices. Place cut side down on greased baking sheets. Bake at 375° for 10-15 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm with pizza sauce. Refrigerate leftovers. Yield: 16 appetizers. tasteofhome.com

Jalapeno Popper Spread

An easy appetizer that tastes just like jalapeno poppers. Serve with sliced sourdough baguettes, tortilla chips or crackers.

Ingredients:

2 (8 oz) packages cream cheese, softened
1 cup mayonnaise
1 (4 oz) can chopped green chilies, drained
2 oz canned diced jalapeno peppers, drained
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Preparation:

Stir together cream cheese and mayonnaise in a large bowl until smooth. Stir in green chilies and jalapeno peppers. Pour mixture into a microwave safe serving dish, and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Microwave on High until hot, about 3 minutes. allrecipes.com

THE NO-EQUIPMENT COUCH POTATO WORKOUT

By: Katie Herbert CPT

fitness.innovations@gmail.com

As a trainer I hear some of the silliest excuses from my clients about why they aren't getting more exercise in. To combat that, I have come up with the best answer I possibly could, it's a no-equipment, minimal effort, minimal time workout. I know, I know, it will take some fun out of making up excuses for not working out, but it could be so crazy that it works. I'm not going to say that this workout will get you in the best shape of your life but it will get you going. Often times all you need is a little push. If you start to be a little more active and you see how great it feels you will probably become more interested in adding other forms of exercise to your day.

Some of you may be reading this and thinking that your problem continues, you have TiVo or DVR. This may be hard, I know, just don't fast forward past the commercials. It may take some getting use to, but in the end your body will thank you.

This workout is designed so you can enjoy your evening television while doing something good for your body too.

Step 1: Put down the chips/ice cream/glass of wine before beginning.

Commercial Break #1: 1 minute of push-ups (kneeling or on toes).
Flip over for 1 min of bicycle crunches.
Hold a plank for any remaining time.

Commercial Break #2: 1 minute of lunges.
1 minute of jumping jacks.
Bicycle crunches for any remaining time.

Commercial Break #3: 1 minute of push-ups.
1 minute of crunches.

Commercial Break #4: 2 minutes of stairs-go, up and down as many stairs as you can.
20 calf raises on the bottom step.

Commercial Break #5: 1 minute of shoulder taps-hold in a straight arm plank position and lift one arm at a time to tap the opposite shoulder.
1 minute of squat jumps

Commercial Break #6: Finish off with some stretching to thank your body for working for you.

If you do have equipment that you have at home, add in extra circuits if you are watching longer tv shows. Add in biceps curls, triceps kickbacks, shoulder press, front raises, the sky is the limit.

Grow Your Own Vegetable Transplants

By: Debbie D. Dillion, Urban Horticulturist
Loudoun County Extension

With all the snow we have had this winter, most folks have had ample time to look through the multitude of gardening catalogs and select vegetables they would like to grow in their garden this year. Home gardeners who plan on starting their own vegetable transplants should consider these four things: 1) the time the plants are needed (last frost date), 2) potting soil or soil mix considerations, 3) light, and 4) temperature.

Most vegetable transplants, with the exception of the cucurbit family (cucumbers, cantaloupes, squash, and watermelons, need about six weeks from seeding until transplant to the garden. Cucurbits only need three weeks and may even be seeded directly in the garden. Many home gardeners commonly start their seeds too early, perhaps as much as 12 to 14 weeks before the ideal garden planting date for that species. This results in plants that outgrow the cell pack root area and the top space available to the transplant resulting in plants that are potbound with the roots throughout, plus completely encircling the outer edge of the potting soil in the cell pack, and tops that are spindly and weak due to crowded competition for light. It's not difficult to calculate the proper time to start seeds. In Loudoun County we generally recommend it is safe to plant your tomato plants after Mother's Day (May 9 this year). Counting back six weeks, you should sow your tomato seeds sometime during the last week of March. This will provide a young, actively growing transplant, not overcrowded in the container and with a rootball still expanding and growing downward (not completely encircling the outer surface of the potting soil).

Never use soil from the garden to germinate your vegetable transplants. Many diseases are soil born and garden soil will not drain well when used in containers. The commercially prepared potting soils consist of peat moss, vermiculite, perlite, and pine bark are lightweight, free from plant pests and soil-borne diseases, and drain very well. The result is far superior in performance compared to garden soil when placed in cell packs or other small transplant-growing containers.

During late winter in Virginia we generally don't have a lot of sunny days in a row, so efforts at producing homegrown or windowsill transplants result in far less than the gardener's expectations because of poor light. Shady or one-sided, cloudy light coming through a window just will not grow stocky vegetable transplants. To do the job well, fluorescent lights placed about 6 inches above the seedling tray are required. The lights should be on a timer to provide 16 hours of bright light each 24-hour period. Dual fluorescent tubes provide stronger and more uniform light than a single tube. One cool-white and one warm-white fluorescent tube provide an excellent balance of useable light for photosynthesis. As plants sprout and grow under lights, the tubes should be raised so as not to produce too much heat too near the tops of the plants.

Once the seeds germinate, keep the plants growing on the cool side to promote stocky versus succulent growth. The best results may be accomplished by turning off or down all other heat in the room where your plants are started to 55° F.

Snowed-In, Snowed-Under, Snowed-Away!

By: Debbie D. Dillion, Urban Horticulturist, Loudoun Cooperative Extension

Can you tell I have had enough? Of the snow that is. I love the beauty and quietness that snow brings to the landscape, but I prefer lesser amounts, say 4 to 6 inches!

As I look out my front door after the Blizzard of 2010, I see my beautiful magnolia with several limbs that have been broken as a result of the heavy snow and high winds. Regrettably, I had too much shoveling to do so I never made it around to remove snow on any of my landscape plants. The snow was just too deep. The evergreens in my landscape have suffered the most damage, particularly my magnolia, loblolly and white pines, and Leyland cypress. Surprisingly, the Norway spruce and Giant Arborvitae have not suffered damage. The hollies I have are less than 5' tall and have really tight growth, so no damage to these either. If you watched the news during and after the storm, you saw that deciduous trees and shrubs can also be damaged from snow and wind, often times with large limbs breaking, trees splitting, or an entire tree coming down.

So what can you do to repair plants that may have suffered damage from the snow and wind? For large trees that may have a large amount of damage, you must decide if the damage can be cleaned up and still have value in the landscape or if you may need to remove it. You can consult a certified arborist to help you make this decision. To find an International Society of Arboriculture Certified Arborist, visit www.treesaregood.org. For limbs that may have been broken off or that may still be broken but hanging, you should use your pruning tools to make a clean cut back to the nearest side branch or at the point where the branch was originally attached. Make sure you stay just outside of the branch bark ridge and collar region when making your cut. For guidelines on proper techniques and tools, go to <http://pubs.ext.vt.edu/430/430-455/430-455.pdf>.

Three other types of winter damage that may occur are winter burn to evergreens, salt, and rodent damage.

Winter burn shows up as browning on the tips and edges of needles/leaves. Winter-burn is usually a result of desiccation or loss of water through the leaves through transpiration. The winter sun and winds draw water from the needles and leaves. If the ground is frozen, the roots are not able to replace that water loss causing the browning on leaf tips and edges. To reduce this damage in the future, make sure evergreens are well watered as they go into the winter months or apply an anti-desiccant before severe winter weather (these products typically only last about 6 weeks, so time your application appropriately).

Salt damage is a result of products used for deicing sidewalks and roads. Symptoms appear in spring/early summer when active growth begins and include browning of evergreens, leaf scorch, and branch dieback. Upper parts of plants can be damaged from road spray and roots can be damaged from salt that may remain in the soil. In well drained soils, salt will be leached away so damage will be minimal, but in poorly drained soils, damage to plants can be extensive. Avoid the use of salts, if possible, using sand, kitty litter, or sawdust to provide traction. If you must use salts, be mindful of the possible damage that may occur. Also, consider using landscape plants in these situations that are more tolerant to salts.

Rodent damage can be a problem when we have prolonged periods of heavy snow cover and food is scarce. Mice and voles can girdle shrubs and trees by feeding on the bark at ground level. This is often a problem when plants are surrounded by heavy groundcover or mulch. Snow provides the same cover as groundcover or mulch. Rabbits feed on the bark above the snow line. I have seen damage to my apple trees in years past when we have had snow on the ground for an extended period from rabbits and expect to see it again after this winter. If you can foresee the type of winter as we have had this year, you can take steps to protect plants by wrapping the trunk and low branches with screen wire or hardware cloth from below ground level to above the height that rabbits could reach branches or the trunk.

Virginia Cooperative Extension has a publication, Winterizing Trees & Shrubs that provides helpful information on how to prevent/reduce winter damage at <http://pubs.ext.vt.edu/426/426-500/426-500.pdf>. The Morton Arboretum has a helpful factsheet <http://www.mortonarb.org/tree-plant-advice/article/691/winter-injury-to-trees-and-shrubs.html>. Adrian Higgins, Garden Writer for the Washington Post, had an excellent article recently related to winter damage which you can access at <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/02/09/AR2010020903061.html>.

Contact the Loudoun County Master Gardener Volunteer Help Desk if you have questions about winter damage, pruning, or any topic related to horticulture or the environment.

LOCAL GROUP OF CULTURAL CARE AU PAIRS
VOLUNTEER TO HELP AT A SUSAN G. KOMEN'S RACE
FOR THE CURE EVENT

A group of 40 au pairs from Ashburn and Leesburg are grateful for the opportunity to be guests for a year here in America and wanted an opportunity to give back to the community that has welcomed them.

They found that opportunity through the Susan G Komen organization's Race for the Cure and will volunteer their time for the ShamrockFest in Washington D.C. on Saturday, March 13th. This event is an Oktoberfest-style festival, and will take place at RFK Stadium from 1:00p.m. - 9:00p.m. The au pairs will work as volunteers throughout the day and evening at this huge outdoor festival, and are happy to be able to contribute to a great organization while enjoying the music and activities.

If you would like more information about the Cultural Care Au Pair program or if you are interested in volunteering at the ShamrockFest, contact Kathleen Shultz at (703) 724-0024.

A cool basement is an excellent area for starting plants under lights. If a warm room is used with its own heat source keeping normal air temperatures in the 70's, the addition of fluorescent growing lights over seedling trays will provide too warm an environment. The only exception to this rule is the germination process. Temperature requirements for germination are quite different from "growing" temperature. After good germination at 80° F, 60° F is preferable for growing out most vegetable transplants to keep them stocky and healthy.

Remember to keep containers covered with plastic, clear glass, or even plastic wrap or waxed paper, until seedlings begin to sprout to keep in warmth and moisture. Another fluorescent tube or a small lamp with a 75 watt incandescent light bulb, placed directly under the shelf supporting the flats provides perfect bottom heat to seeds without the bother and expense of a heat mat. This gentle heat source is turned off as soon as seeds begin to pop up. If not, the seedlings will stretch from too much bottom heat.

When plants are about four inches tall, they are an excellent size for the least transplanting shock and for faster re-growth in the garden, as opposed to plants that are 10 to 12 inches tall. When your plants have reached four inches in height and are well-branched and stocky, they should be "hardened-off" by reducing watering frequency and moving plants to an outdoor porch or coldframe for the final week or two before going into the garden. This will toughen them to the effects of wind and outside temperatures, and to the natural light/dark cycle. If an unexpected frost is forecast, move the plants back indoors under 16 hours of light, but keep the temperature at 55° to 60° F if possible.

To download a copy of the Virginia Cooperative Extension publication 426-331, Vegetable Planting Guide and Recommended Planting Dates, go to: If you have questions regarding growing vegetables or other plants contact the Loudoun County Master Gardener Volunteer Help Desk at 703-771-5150 or vcemg107@vt.edu.
